

Owners and Representatives

The Alliance is built on the concept that Owners, Testers and Reviewers mutually require and agree that Testers must meet appropriate quality standards.

Owners and their Representatives are required to

- Adopt standard specifications and procedures developed by the Alliance system
- Specify that testing will be undertaken by Endorsed testing companies
- Specify random or systematic reviews of test data to ensure quality of advice and process

Owners and their Representatives benefit from

- Having quality-focussed testing companies
- Assurance that test results and analyses are reliable
- Have the benefit of expert review advice to their projects
- In-house education of supervisory staff so that they become informed clients.
